

Dipleura dekayi (Green, 1832) (TH373)

Dipleura → Phacopida → Calymenina → Calymenoidea → Homalonotidae

Provenance : United States; New York State, Middleport

Formation : Rochester Shale Fm

Age : Middle Devonian, Eifelian

Details : Of course I'd like to get a complete specimen of this species one day...in the meantime I've already got a piece of it (cephalon) – below and just underneath left, a dorsal photograph; on the right a frontal one (missing parts of the skeleton already showing on the anterior part, and on the ?fixigenal? part). However, detail photography of the lateral sides of the piece show that some careful prepping may reveal more small bits of exoskeleton, currently hidden under a slim matrix covering. Sorry for crappy images (made on a cloudy day).
